While vaccines have shown some efficacy in preventing the most severe outcomes of COVID-19, rising vaccine breakthrough infection rates do not support the rationale for mandatory vaccines.

At FLCCC, we believe vaccines are part of a multi-pronged COVID-19 strategy that encourages doctors to use all tools at their disposal. These tools include preventative measures and early treatment protocols using approved, safe and effective medications and supplements to safeguard the health of patients.

We are attending and speaking at the march on January 23 because we support medical freedom and the need to "let doctors be doctors" and uphold their Hippocratic oath.

How we are involved:

03

- The FLCCC is a sponsor of the event.
- Dr. Pierre Kory and Dr. Paul Marik are both speaking.
- FLCCC staff and Board members will be in attendance.
- We have produced a series of social media assets (see following pages) that our followers can use to show their support for the cause.

How you can support:

- If you are planning to attend in person:
  - Download and print a sign to bring to the march
  - Use our template to create a custom 'Why I'm going to DC' card to share on social media
  - Share photos, videos and live impressions of the event using hashtag #letdoctorsbedoctors
- If you are unable to attend:
  - Download and share our Twitter/Instagram/Facebook cards
  - Use hashtag #letdoctorsbedoctors to support those who are attending
  - Share our assets with your friends and family and ask them to post on social media

Key messages:

05

- COVID is treatable

- There is no one-size-fits-all solution to end the pandemic — a multi-faceted approach is necessary
- Many compounds have proven effective, including nutritional therapeutics, supplements and repurposed FDA-approved drugs
- Clinical evidence from doctors all over the world shows positive outcomes

- Early treatment works!

- Some patients show improvement within hours
- Access to treatment as soon as symptoms begin is an essential part of ending the pandemic
- Early treatment is essential both for those who are not vaccinated, as well as those who are vaccinated but experience breakthrough infections

- Let doctors be doctors

- Public health officials are artificially limiting the ability of healthcare providers to manage the pandemic
- More and more doctors are refusing to stand by and watch their patients deteriorate or die unnecessarily when simple solutions exist
- Healthcare providers have vowed to do no harm, while constantly innovating and challenging the status quo in order to be the champion of their patients
